Get To Know A Nupe Brother Michael Wray

Hometown:

Philadelphia

Undergraduate Degree:

University of Pittsburgh, Psychology Major

Crossed the Burning Sands:

Beta Epsilon, Fall 2007

Three words that best describe you.

Intelligent, versatile & laid-back

What made you want to be a member of Kappa Alpha Psi?

When I arrived at Pitt, I did not know too much about Greek life. I spent much of my time on academic studies and running track for the university. My roommate (and eventual line brother) introduced me to some Kappas. They all seemed accomplished and looked to be well-to-do black men. As I spent more time with them, I began to discover what they stood for, and how they represented themselves. I began to see aligning my life with these men and their core values. Brother Michael McLendon had a lot to do with me becoming a Nupe.

What are some of your fondest undergraduate fraternity memories?

One of my fondest memories was winning the “Chapter of the Year” award. We also won a couple “Cathedral Awards”. This award is given to the best overall fraternity at the University of Pittsburgh. Our chapter prided ourselves on creating, or participating in, activities outside of the customary National Pan Hellenic Council or the Interfraternity Council activities.

If I were Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter Polemarch for a day...

I would have social gatherings that help undergrad and alumni brothers get to know one another. Additionally, I would create a “sponsor an undergrad brother” program. This program would socially and financially pair older and younger brothers to guide younger brothers as they move from campus life to their professional careers. It would also increase the chances of newly graduated brothers participating at the alumni level.

What three things can you always find in your refrigerator?

Almond milk, something spicy and something green

Three people (living or deceased) you would like to have dinner with?

Jesus, President Obama & Steve Jobs
